

Soulwork: To stand upright, eyes elevated in pride. No matter my battles of the past, they add beautiful creases to the me standing before you now.

